

COOKIE POLICY

Last updated: 28.11.2025

1. What are cookies?

1.1. Cookies are small text files that are stored on your device (computer, smartphone, tablet) when you visit websites. They are widely used to ensure the correct and efficient operation of the site, to remember your actions and preferences (such as login, language, font size, and other display settings) over a certain period.

1.2. In addition to cookies, similar technologies may be used on this site to collect and store information, such as web beacons (pixel tags), browser local storage, etc. For the purposes of this Policy, all such technologies are collectively referred to as “cookies”.

2. Why do we use cookies?

We use cookies for the following purposes:

- Essential:

These cookies are technically necessary for the basic operation of the site and to ensure its security. Without them, the site cannot function properly. They do not collect information that can be used for marketing or to track your internet activity.

- Preferences:

These cookies allow the site to remember your choices and settings to provide enhanced and personalized functionality.

- Analytics:

These cookies help us understand how visitors interact with the site (e.g., which pages are visited most often), and collect anonymous statistics. This information helps us improve the site's performance, structure, and content.

- Targeting:

These cookies are used to track visitors across websites. The goal is to display relevant and personalized advertisements to the user and to measure the effectiveness of advertising campaigns. Such cookies may share information with other advertising partners.

3. Managing cookies and your consent

3.1. Essential cookies are placed on your device automatically based on our legitimate interest in ensuring the technical functionality of the site. Your consent is not required for their use.

3.2. For the placement of all other categories of cookies (functional, analytical, marketing), we require your voluntary, informed, and unambiguous consent.

3.3. How to give or withdraw consent:

- When you first visit the site, a pop-up window (banner) will appear requesting your consent to use cookies. You can accept all cookies, reject all except essential ones, or manually configure your preferences by selecting categories.
- You can change your cookie settings or withdraw your consent at any time using the cookie management panel available via a link at the bottom of the site or through your browser settings (see section 3.4).
- Withdrawing consent does not affect the lawfulness of processing carried out before its withdrawal.

3.4. How to manage cookies through browser settings:

You can configure or disable the use of cookies directly in your web browser. Please note that disabling all cookies, including essential ones, may result in the site not functioning properly (e.g., inability to log into your account or place an order).

Instructions for popular browsers:

- Google Chrome
- Mozilla Firefox
- Safari
- Microsoft Edge

4. Third-party cookies and services

4.1. Our site may use third-party services (e.g., YouTube videos, Google Maps, social media buttons, analytics systems). These third-party providers may place their own cookies on your device. We do not control and are not responsible for the use of cookies by these third-party websites and services. Their use is governed by the privacy policies of the respective companies.

4.2. We make reasonable efforts to list the third-party services used and provide links to their policies. However, this list may change. We recommend reviewing the privacy policies of these companies.

5. Cookie retention period

5.1. Different cookies are stored on your device for different periods: Session cookies – are automatically deleted after closing the browser. Persistent cookies – remain on the device for a specified period (from several days to several years), unless you delete them manually.

6. Your rights

As a data subject, under the Law of the Republic of Belarus 'On Personal Data Protection', you have the right to access, rectify, withdraw consent, and delete your data. You can learn more about your rights and how to exercise them in our Privacy Policy.

7. Changes to the Cookie Policy

We may update this Policy from time to time to reflect changes in the technologies we use or legal requirements. The current version of the Policy will always be available on this page with the date of the last update.

8. Contact information
